Blue and Gray

1929

FOREWORD

In days to come this year will be viewed with pride. In order to preserve the memorable events, we have endeavored in this volume to portray faithfully and fully the various activities of our high school life. We sincerely hope that a perusal of its contents may bring pleasure to our friends and may recall to us pleasant memories of high school days.

We have failed in many points to realize our expectations, but we hope that you will receive kindly and consider attentively this product of our labors, ever remembering that we have been confronted by many difficulties and limitations.

"Careless of censure, not too fond of fame,
Still pleased to praise, yet not afraid to blame;
Averse alike to flatter or offend,
Not free from faults, nor yet too vain to mend."

Because of her active interest in our work, her knowledge of how affairs should be managed, her sympathy with our ideals and hopes, and, finally, her unflagging labors to make this annual, in every department, better than its predecessors, we feel that our task would not be complete if we did not express in some little way the debt we owe our sponsor, Mrs. Bell. It is no platitude to say that without her zeal and help, this annual would not exist.

DEDICATION

To our principal, Mr. S. P. Vanderslice, through whose enterprising spirit and untiring efforts in the interest of Washington-Lee High School has been made possible the rapid growth of this school to the position which it now holds, the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-nine most gratefully and respectfully dedicates this volume of the "Blue and Gray."

WHY TEACHERS GO INSANE

1. Should we write on both sides of the paper?
 2. When do we get our reports?
 3. Have you graded our papers yet?
 4. Why did I get this "E"?
 5. May I speak to So-and-so?
 6. May I have a blue slip?
 7. Which proposition did we have for today?
 8. May I be excused from my "45" and stay tomorrow instead?
 9. May I borrow a sheet of paper?
 10. May I borrow a pen?
 11. May I borrow an eraser?
 12. May I get a drink?
 13. I didn't know we had to write it!
 14. May I sharpen my pencil?
 15. Did you call on me? Oh!
 16. Oh! Did you assign a lesson?
 17. What was that question?
 18. How long should the composition be?
 19. May I go to the library?
 20. I forgot my excuse.
 21. I didn't know we would need that book!

MOTTO: "Always to Excel"

CLASS COLORS: Chinese Red and Dutch Blue

CLASS FLOWER: American Beauty Rose

OFFICERS

Glenn Hall	President
Lucy Munson	Vice-President
Elois Topley	Secretary
Charles McPherson	Treasurer
Madison Monroe	Sergeant-at-Arms

GLENN HALL

"He was beloved by all."

Football '26-'29; Baseball '26-'29; Basketball '26-'28; President Latin-Spanish 10A '27; Treasurer Sophomore Class '27; Dramatic Club '28, '29; President Senior Class '29; W-L Club '26, '29; Athletic Association '26-'29.

Behold the president of our class!—an all-round athlete, singer, and hearty worker for W-L. Glenn is a born leader, and we know that his great ability will carry him far in the business or professional world.

:: :: ::

LUCY MUNSON

"Tell me if she were not designed Th' eclipse and glory of her kind."

Basketball '26-'29; Captain '29; Athletic Association '26-'29; Domestic Science Club '26, '27; President '26; W-L Club '29; Dramatic Club '29; Vice-President Sophomore Class '28; Vice-President Senior Class '29.

One of the most popular members of our class is Lucy. An ideal member in work or fun, a leader in school work and in athletics, she has made a place for herself that no one can fill. Lucy is indispensable!

ELOIS TOPLEY

"Modest, yet withal an elf."

Language Club '26; Athletic Association '26, '29; Basketball '26-'29; Captain '27, '28; Manager '29; Vice-President Sophomore Class '27; President Girls' W-L Club '29; Secretary Senior Class '29.

Here, there, and gone again. At her locker between classes, in the gym after school. That's Elois, the popular little Senior secretary. Elois is one of the mainstays of the girls' basketball team, but there are many other ways, too, in which her graduation will be a loss to W-L.

:: :: ::

CHARLES McPHERSON

"Farewell! A long farewell to all my greatness."

Football '26-'29; Baseball '26-'29; Basketball '26-'29; W-L Club '26-'29; President '29; Treasurer of Dramatic Club '29; Treasurer Senior Class '29.

Our all-round athlete, class treasurer, and blusher. Chick, with his ability and great open field running on the gridiron, along with his many other admirable qualities, has a place among us that no one else could possibly fill.

:: :: ::

MADISON MONROE

"Prithee, why so mute?"

Athletic Association '26-'29; Cadet Corporal '27; Cadet Sergeant '27; Cadet Second Lieutenant '28; Cadet Captain '29; Baseball '28; Sergeant-at-Arms Senior Class '29; Officers Club '28, '29; Rifle Team '28, '29.

Behold a champion! Maddy holds the record at W-L in the great indoor sport of talking. It is our proud claim that no one in Virginia can talk longer or faster than he. But he has other claims to fame. For instance, just look at his cadet record!

DELMAS BARR

"In contemplation spending all his days."

Literary Society '26, '27; Athletic Association '27-'29.

Delmas is a man of few words. Despite his retiring disposition, he is working forward slowly and steadily to the goal of success. With men of such ability as Delmas, who has little time for the frivolous things, and yet is full of sympathy and optimism, some honor must come to the class of '29. W-L expects much of Delmas.

ROBERT BAXTER

"Before him he sees life unroll."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Business Club '26, '27; Cadets '27-'29; Corporal '27; Sergeant '27; First Lieutenant '28; Captain '29; Rifle Team '28, '29; Officers Club '28-'29.

Robert, the particular captain! When you look out over the athletic field and see a group of cadets marching with intense interest in perfect order, you may know that Robert is their captain.

DORIS BECK

"We have chosen our path—path of advance."

Foreign Language Club '26, '27; Athletic Association '28, '29; Dramatics '29.

Her class wouldn't be complete without Doris. She willingly attacks any task given her with such cheerfulness and earnest spirit that she can but gain success.

MARGARET BENSINGER

"Joyous and clear and fresh, thy music doth surpass."

Glee Club '26, '27; Orchestra '26; Dramatic Club '29; Athletic Association '29.

What will W-L do without Margaret? She not only is willing to play for us whenever we need it, but does so with all our well known Senior "pep and vigor." Besides this willingness and skill, she is a very attractive miss, and one of our greatest beauty assets.

RUTH BIRD

"Then sing, ye birds, sing, sing a joyous song."

Art Club '26; Dramatic Club '26; Latin Club '27; Glee Club '29; Athletic Association '29.

Even though Ruth has been with us just a year, W-L will miss her when she leaves. She is one of the smallest in physique and one of the largest in accomplishments. Her winning smile and her quiet dignity have won our love and respect. She fulfills the truth of the saying, "The best things often come done up in small packages."

ELSIE BROOKS

"The quiet mind is richer than a crown."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Glee Club '26, '27; Science Club '27.

Elsie, the "Reliable," whether it be giving aid to a teacher who needs numbers called or helping out a tiny Junior High School tot, Elsie is ever ready and willing. They do say, too, that her scholastic ability is not in arrears!

:: :: ::

JOSEPH CLARKE

"Ah, but a man's reach should exceed his grasp,
Or what's a heaven for?"

Athletic Association '26-'29; Cadet Sergeant '27; Cadet First Lieutenant '28-'29; Chemistry Club '26; Officers' Club '28-'29; Rifle Team '28, '29; Spanish Club '29.

Whenever the class needs a "handy man," Joe is always in demand. Joe, with his mechanical ability, we feel sure will head an industrial institution for training American youth.

ANNE CROSON

"When you feel like singin', sing."

Basketball '26-'29; Glee Club '26-'29; Secretary '26, '27; Dramatic Club '28, '29; W-L Club '28, '29; Athletic Association '29.

Anne is noted for two things—her basketball abilities and charming voice. While Anne is one of our Commercial students, we feel that she will attain fame in the musical world.

:: :: ::

GORDON CROUCH

"My wealth is health and perfect ease."

Track '26-'29; Football '29; Athletic Association '26-'29; Dramatic Club '29.

Gordon is a marked man!—marked for honors, for fame, for all the good the world can bring! We, who have known him at W-L know that, for we know his abilities; and our hope is that this fame, which is bound to come, will come very quickly to Gordon.

:: :: ::

MARCELLE DAUPHIN

"My spirit drauk repose."

Foreign Language '26; Dramatic Club '29; Athletic Association '29; Secretary and Treasurer of Freshman Class '26.

A quiet, demure young lady from whom we hear little, but an indispensable member of our class is Marcelle. Her ability in French is well known, but there never was a subject in which she was not excellent. She is just a very clever girl, is Marcelle!

LEOLA ELLIS

"A narrow compass and yet there Dwelt all that's good and all that's fair."

Vice-President Freshman Class '26; Glee Club '26-'28; Girls' Auxiliary '28; Athletic Association '26-'29; Advertising Committee '29; Home Economics Club '29.

Everyone has a talent; some can do one thing best, some another. But Leola's genius is advertising. She broadcasts W-L to her friends, and then hurries off and brings the Business Manager armfuls of ads. That's a talent that is worth while!

ANGELINA FEDERICO

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you."

Vice-President Commercial Club '26; Basketball '27; Treasurer Home Economics Club '27; Secretary and Treasurer Home Economics Club '29; Athletic Association '29.

Angelina is our little signorina, who comes to us from the far-off shores of Italy. She is known and liked throughout the entire school because of her hearty smile and pleasant disposition.

LUCILLE GOODE

"That which is not good is not delicious."

Literary Club '26, '27; Home Economics Club '27, '28; Athletic Association '28, '29.

Quiet and reserved is our friend Lucille. Though possessing original opinions and holding fast to earnest convictions, she never makes herself prominent by overmuch speech. Lucille is also somewhat of a cook. Our class expects much of Lucille.

MARIAN GOODRICK

"Modern ways are quite alarming."

Dramatic Club '27-'29; Debating Club '27; Glee Club '27, '28; Athletic Association '29.

Although Marian was unfortunate in not being at W-L her first three years, yet so great is her charm that Clara Bow herself cannot compete with the record "Red-Head" has made for herself in one short year. Welcome, Marian!

MARGARET GRIFFIN

"My love is more than many diamonds."

Dramatic Club '27; Glee Club '26; President Freshman Class '26; Vice-President Sophomore Class '27.

Margaret is one of the liveliest and most wide-awake girls in our Senior Class. She is always pleasant and interesting to talk to, and it would be hard to say where we would be without her.

HAROLD HAREBAUGH

"Master of human destinies am I."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Journalism Club '26; Oratorical Club '26, '29; Vice-President Junior Class '28; Athletic Editor "Blue and Gray" '28; Editor-in-Chief of "Blue and Gray" '29.

All hail to the chief! The class of '29 congratulates itself in being able to count Harold among its members. We feel sure that W-L will always have just cause to be proud of Harold's future achievements as she is of his High School record.

:: :: ::

VIRGINIA HARRISON

"Her hair was thick with many a curl
That clustered round her head."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Dramatic Club '26; Glee Club '27; Oratorical Club '29; Domestic Science Club '27.

Born in "Old Virginy" she is a true daughter, though she is part Canadian. There are none more loyal, more devoted to W-L than she; and no better friend is to be found.

:: :: ::

EDWIN HAY

"The ship has weathered every rack:
The prize we sought is won."

Football '26, '27; Dramatic Club '28, '29; Business Manager "Blue and Gray" '29; Athletic Association '26-'29.

Our "Pug" will never be called a blushing violet, but there is no reason he needs to be, he has much to boast of. First and foremost, he has brightened many classrooms with his grin and jokes. Second, he has done his share to bring us fame on the gridiron. Third, he has helped a great deal to make our annual a success in his capacity as Business Manager. Give praise to "Pug."

:: :: ::

VIRGINIA HOGAN

"Judge then me by what I am."

Dramatic Club '26-'29; Athletic Association '29; Orchestra '26-'29; Annual Staff '29.

Whenever the rattle of a coin box is heard in the Senior Class room, it is the safest thing to say that Virginia is coming with a winning smile on her face and a tiny contribution box in her hand. She surely knows the way to make a large treasury, regardless of whether one is Scotch or not.

BESSIE ISKOW

"I know that Europe's wonderful,
Yet something seems to lack."

Commercial Club '26; Home Economics '29; Athletic Association '29.

Bessie is our own "go-getter." We expect to hear soon that this keen business acumen of hers has carried her into the realm of the great Captains of Industry.

DOROTHY ISKOW

"To the blessed land of room-enough—beyond the ocean bars."

Home Economics Club '27; Athletic Association '27-'29.

Dorothy is a quiet little dark-haired lady, who has won a warm spot in the hearts of many. She is always ready to lend a helping hand, and this Russian lassie's cheerful ways will be much missed by all of us.

:: :: ::

TAYLOR JENKINS

"I fear not wave nor wind."

Dramatic Club '26-'29; Athletic Association '26-'29; Circulation Manager "Blue and Gray" '29.

W-L has reason to expect fame in the realm of the drama—for Taylor, they do say, will some day be listed among the Who's Who in the theatrical world, along with Barrymore and the other immortals.

:: :: ::

DENNIS LADD

"What matter if I stand alone."

Science Club '26; Cadets '27-'29, First Sergeant '29; Athletic Association '29.

The fact that all the boys find Dennis so agreeable and good-natured when the jokes are passed around is ample proof that the "Ladd's" heart is made of the right material. Tall Dennis is a friend to all. 'Nuff said!

:: :: ::

FORREST LEE LUCAS

"For we'll sing one song for my old Kentucky Home."

Science Club '26; Girl Reserves '26; Glee Club '26, '27; Orchestra '26, '27; "Blue and Gray" Staff '29.

For sheer indefatigable ability to see a job through to the finish, no one excels Forrest Lee. The class of '29 cannot say too much in praise of her untiring efforts on the "Blue and Gray." We feel sure that the wonderful ability displayed here is only the beginning of great things for this Kentucky lass.

:: :: ::

CHARLES MATEER

"Large was his bounty and his soul sincere."

Science Club '26; Cadets '27, '28; Rifle Team '28; Athletic Association '27-'29; Orchestra '29.

Here comes "Charlie" Mateer, 'tardus sed certus'. His pleasant smile, his ability to take a joke, and his cheery attitude toward life have made him a host of friends at W-L. Charles is also quite talented as a cadet and as a saxophone player. Possessing such worthy qualities, Charles is assured of a bright future.

KRUG McCLOSKEY

"How happy is he born and taught,
Whose armor is his honest thought."

Basketball '26; Track '26; Dramatic Club '26,
'27; President Junior Class '28; Cadets '27-'29.
Cadet Major '29; Rifle Team '28; Officers Club
'29; Athletic Association '29.

Krug is silent, but there is much behind his silence! He has made one of the best cadet officers the Corps has ever had. We salute you, Major McClosky.

:: :: ::

GEORGE McQUINN

"And peace like Autumn's moonlight Clothed his tranquil countenance."

Baseball '26-'29; Basketball '26-'29; Athletic Association '26-'29; W-L Club '26-'29.

George is our future "Babe Ruth." Whenever this "southpaw" swings his bat, the public takes notice. In the field of athletics and sports W-L expects much of George.

:: :: ::

ANITA MILLS

"I love all beauteous things. I see and adore them."

Science Club '26; Home Economics Club '27;
Dramatic Club '29; Athletic Association '27-'29.

Never idle or loafing, but always up and doing!
That describes Anita. Her greatest ambition is to become a teacher. She will attain this without a doubt.

:: :: ::

WILLIAM MOORE

"But the fellers call me Bill——"

Journalism Club '26, '27; Cadets '26, '27; Athletic Association '29.

If you see a crowd milling about one end of the school, Bill is taking or exhibiting pictures. If you hear roars of laughter from somewhere, Bill's telling jokes. If you can't get anything to eat down at the store, you know Bill has been there before.

:: :: ::

JULIAN NELSON

"Who doubts thee victor?"

Athletic Association '29; Business Club '27.

You don't know Julian! Why everybody knows him. With his smile and wit who could help knowing him. Julian is one of that lineage which has handed down "Noah's Ark" from one generation to another. Do not be surprised if in the future you see or hear of Nelson's Transportation Company. Good luck to you, Julian!

MORGAN NYCE

"Nor did more learning ever crowded lie,
In such a short mortality."

Science Club '26; Dramatic Club '28, '29; Athletic Association '26-'29

Morgan will, no doubt, become a Napoleon one of these days; for, like that great man, he is quiet and retiring with a hint of hidden power in his eyes.

KATHERINE PARKER

"'Twas her thinking of others made you think of her—My Kate!"

Glee Club '25 '26; Home Economics Club '27-'29; Spanish Club '29; Athletic Association '29.

Katherine will, really and truly, be missed; for whether it be serving at a banquet, preparing tasty meals in cooking class, or cheering on the side lines for our athletes, she is always faithful and interested in W-L.

VIRGINIA PETTITT

"A heart as soft, a heart as kind
As in the whole world thou canst find."

Glee Club '26; Dramatic Club '26-'28; Basketball '28-'29; Athletic Association '26-'29.

It would be difficult to find a senior more willing, more ready to "lend a hand" than Virginia. Here's wishing you all the luck there is.

CLEMENTINE PINCKNEY

"With malice toward none, with charity for all."

Home-Makers Club '26; Basketball '26; Dramatic Club '26; Business Club '27.

"Clem" is the jolly Southern maiden from South Carolina, whose laughter has helped us to succeed in nature study. Clementine excels.

DORIS PRESTON

"In small proportions we just beauties see."

Dramatic Club '26, '28, '29; Literary Club '27; Girls' Auxiliary '28; Athletic Association '28, '29; Secretary Freshman Class '26; Secretary Sophomore Class '27; Vice President Junior Class '28; Spring Play '27.

It is a proved fact that not in every case the person with a brain overcramped with booklore alone stands first. We must have that indefinite something called personality to back our learning—and Doris has it.

EDITH RICE

"Serene and resolute and still."

Literary Club '26, '27; Latin Club '27; Dramatic Club '28, '29.

When we are on the road to success—various branches to be sure, but it is all the same road—we will look ahead of us and see "Edie" plugging doggedly, not rushing nor speeding, but moving steadily to the top. Some of us will speed up and pass her, but we will soon find the pace too hard, and, if we are wise, will drop behind her again, to rest assured that her pace is the best.

"Work, work, work—my labor never flags!"

Journalism Club '26; Literary Club '27-'29, President '28; Secretary Sophomore Class '27; Associate Editor "Blue and Gray" '29; Athletic Association '27-'29; Annual Contributor '27, '28.

The fact that Jeanne holds a place on our Editorial Staff is proof of the place she holds among her classmates. We expect nothing less of Jeanne than a membership in Phi-Beta-Kappa when her collegiate work is finished.

EVANGELINE RUDASILL

"Fair was she to behold,
That maiden of seventeen summers."

Glee Club '26, '27; Literary Club '27, '28; Athletic Association '29.

Here is one of the littlest persons in our class; but as you have doubtless heard many times, size has nothing to do with ability. Else how could Evangeline be so smart in French? We rise to inquire.

DOUGLAS SCHEPMOES

"From turret to foundation stone,
The hand of Douglas is his own."

Treasurer Commercial Club '26; Athletic Association '26-'29; Track '29.

Douglas believes in the eloquence of silence. He goes about his work without display or unnecessary confusion. Beneath all his quiet, unpretentious nature is original thought and honest, whole-hearted purpose. His earnest devotion to his work will carry him to the pinnacle of success.

ANNA SCHULL

"With gentle yet prevailing force, Intent upon her destined course."

Glee Club '26-'28; Home Economics Club '29; Athletic Association '29.

Anna is very quiet, but behind that placid face lies an active brain. It has been said that women of few words are the best women, and this saying finds proof in Anna—

"And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew,
That one small head could carry all she knew."

JOSEPH SCHUTZ

"Art is long, time is fleeting."

Rugby '27; Cricket '27; Track '27; Football '28; Athletic Association '28, '29; Oratorical '29; Spanish Club '29; Art Editor, "Blue and Gray" '29.

Our truly versatile member is Jerry. Be it Voltaire or the latest tea at the French Embassy under discussion he is equally at home. The class owes Jerry a debt in his artistic contributions to the "Blue and Gray."

:: :: ::

JAMES SCOTT

"Maturer manhood now arrives, and other thoughts come on."

Cadets '25-'28, Lieutenant '27, Major '28; Football '26; Dramatic Club '25.

A fine dancer is Jimmy, a great orchestra player, and a splendid cadet major. He is always full of jokes and fun and brings to our class a jollity and gaiety it could ill do without.

:: :: ::

LEWIS SHEPHERD

"Nay, gentle shepherd, ill is lost that praise That is addressed to unattending ears."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Dramatic Club '28 '29.

A happy-go-lucky fellow is "Luke." W-L will look for to find another senior so optimistic. We understand that he intends to become a chemical engineer—Here's luck to him!

:: :: ::

TROXEL SIMONTON

"A poet could not but be gay In such a jocund company."

Dramatic Club '26-'29; President of Dramatic Club '29; Spanish Club '29; Athletic Association '28, '29.

Variety—that's the word when Troxel is around—never a dull minute, for that keen wit of his is ever on the alert. Some day the world will hear from W-L's most famous poet.

:: :: ::

MAE SIZEMORE

"So free we seem, so fettered fast are we."

Dramatic Club '26; Glee Club '26, '27; Business Club '28.

Our own little Mae. Although Mae has definitely chosen her life's career, we still feel she has W-L's interest at heart and will, through her loyalty and devotion, make us glad to count her among our members.

MARY SMOOT

"That which we are, we are."

Science and Kodak Club '26; Glee Club '27, '28; President of Home Economics '29; Athletic Association '26-'29.

In order that W-L may not be lacking a representative in the great service established by Florence Nightingale, our Mary has decided to devote her life to this work. May success attend her in this noble undertaking.

:: :: ::

CHARLES STERLING

"He thinks on men and kings."

Athletic Association '26-'29; Oratorical Club '29.

When a forensic circle meets, you may expect to find Charles in the role of leader. We expect Charles to go in for public life, and there need be no surprise expressed if he be the head of some great commonwealth, who knows?—perhaps a Chief Executive—he may some day occupy the White House. Success, Charlie, the world needs men with your ideals!

:: :: ::

WILLIAM SWART

"In thought he loves to roam."

Cadets '27-'29, Second Lieutenant '29; Cadet Officers Club '29; Track '29; Football '27; Athletic Association '26-'29; Rifle Team '28-'29.

William is good at everything, but he is best known for his work in track. The team will have to look far next year to find a man his equal. We must not forget his genius for history, either, nor his cadet Lieutenantship.

:: :: ::

RICHARD TACKER

"Give me the life I love."

Orchestra '25, '26; Science Club '27; Cadets '28.

Dick says he feels the "East-a-callin'" and expects to represent W-L at Singapore, Calcutta, Shanghai and other ports "East of Suez." The class of '29 expects renown from "Richard's Trav-clogues," and, if he lives up to his reputation made at W-L, he'll not disappoint us.

:: :: ::

LOUISE TAYLOR

"Her lively looks a spritely mind discloses."

Home Economics Club '26, '28, '29; Athletic Association '28, '29.

For a genuine even-tempered, yet talented young lady, Louise is not excelled. Be it playing the piano or making the typewriter ring, she is equally skilled. The height of Louise's ambition is Private Secretary to the President at the White House.

ROBERT TILLETT

"Would thou hear what man can say in a little?"

Secretary Athletic Association '26; Athletic Association '26-'29; Cadet Corporal '28; Cadet First Sergeant '29; Rifle Team '28, '29.

What Robert lacks in height he makes up in quality. With a smile and cheery greeting for every one Robert has made many friends. Due to his keen sense of humor his presence is always welcome in any social gathering. Robert has also made a fine record as a cadet. His assured future success in the commercial world is bound to bring honor to his beloved "Alma mater."

TERESA TILLETT

"Teach me half the gladness that thy brain doth know."

Junior League '26, '27; Chairman Health Committee '26; Home Economics Club '29.

A golden-haired lassie with brown eyes, Miss Tillett (kindly pronounce with accent on the last syllable) is a very charming young lady indeed. She has a sense of humor, too, and a way that has made her many friends.

GLADYS WILSON

"Many a glance, too, has been sent
From out the eye, love's firmament."

Home Economics Club '27; Basketball '28; Athletic Association '27-'29.

Gladys is a very sweet, attractive girl, who always sees the bright side of life. Her frankness and sincerity have won her many friends at W-L.

MARY WITHAUER

"Thou hast one aim—one business—one desire."

Home Economics Club '27-'29; Science Club '28.

A pin in Mary's hand is apt to become active in affairs of mischief. The pin is symbolic of Mary in several ways—in sharpness, in cleanliness, and in utility. She is a good scout, and her practical jokes never harmed any one.

FAREWELL POEM

Farewell, old friends and classmates; farewell! our race is run.
The fun and work are ended, the goal we sought is won.
And fare-ye-well our teachers, along farewell to you—
Whate'er betide, with thankful hearts we shall remember you!

Jeanne Rose '29

CLASS HISTORY OF TWENTY-NINE

Four years ago a band of young people was sent upon a journey through the enchanted forest of knowledge. It was a day of great beauty, for the sky was bright with a rosy promise, the birds caroled to celebrate the spring time of their youth, and the dream of each boy and girl created a true realm of enchantment. These children had not traveled far along this joyous highway ere they arrived at a Palace of Wonder, over the door of which was the inscription, "Washington-Lee High School." Their steps were halted before the portal of this castle, where they were told that they could not proceed on their journey through this wonderful forest until they had remained within these walls for four years.

Now these young people were much frightened because they had been told that there was a small man, but a great giant, who guarded the massive gates of this castle and that many giants and demons roamed within. Knowing no other way to seek an entrance, they at last gained courage to knock at the portals. Immediately the door flew open and the giant indeed was seen within. The first of their enemies was a dignified Senior. After passing this enemy and others, who were, "Juniors" and "Sophomores," they wandered alone for a few months through the halls of loneliness, when finally some of them succeeded in winning places on the girl's basketball and boy's basketball and football teams. On every hand this timid band was confronted by hideous dragons known as "Teachers," "Report Cards," "Forty-fives," "Examinations," and "Weekly Tests." Each dragon had to be fought and overcome in its turn, and at the end of the first ten months these young people were almost ready to despair. But the strength that comes with every victory won made them bold for their renewed struggle.

At the beginning of the second year many members of the band did not appear at the portals of the castle. Some had fled from the kingdom of knowledge into the world of traffic, while others had moved to distant lands. But, by this time, the "dragons," who seemed less terrifying, passed many of the travelers without further notice. Now, these young people had become skillful with a few weapons which they had wielded the year before; such as, Algebra, Ancient History, English, Biology, and beginners' Latin. And at this time they had grown sufficiently courageous to choose a few weapons from the armory of knowledge, and lo! "French" and "Spanish" and "Commercial Subjects" appeared upon their passports. The journey onward each day placed them nearer their goal.

Half the journey was now completed, and again, the third year, the wayfarers knocked at the portals for admission. Could this really be their much dreaded castle of terrors? To the merry band of sixty-six who entered upon the threshold of this year this castle appeared, instead of a place of terrors, a place of enjoyment. This was the year in which this band reached the height of its desires and ambitions, and the year passed as a golden dream. The class climbed to the height of Mr. Vanderslice's approval, and, at the end of the term, upon the ready approval of the teachers, was passed on to the new realm of Seniors.

The fourth year was a Renaissance. There was a new song in the heart of each of the band who came back the fourth time, and the vision of the future grew brighter apace. Could it be possible in a few brief months that they would not knock at the portals for readmission, but would resume their journey through the forest of delight? During these years of development within the castle walls these travelers had grown to the stature of "giants" themselves and they now chose their weapons with sureness and wielded them with skill. The "dragons" became pitiless, but there was always a song.

There were times when they sang "Sons of High Desire," and again "Among My Souvenirs" moaned in each heart. But this was modulated to "The Senior Class is Better Than It Used To Be."

The edict went out through the castle to the inhabitants within that they must labor—and they labored and labored and labored. But they did not work at the Forge of Endeavor in vain—for the fairy called Success came ere long and placed a golden crown on each youthful brow.

At last the four years are almost passed. The journey through the forest must be resumed, for the lure of the unknown presses and the enchanted land beckons. Just beyond the door of the castle through which the band must pass there is a long, long hill called the Road of Ambition which each one must climb. The way looks difficult, but encased with the armor of youth, invigorated with the elixir of memory, and urged on by the ideals which are theirs, each one has set his face sturdily toward the top and toward the country beyond, which is the Land of Fulfillment.

Ruth Bird,

Forrest Lee Lucas.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Washington-Lee High School, being sound in body and firm in mind, knowing that our span of life in this Institution is rapidly approaching its end, and desirous of settling our mundane and scholarly affairs, do hereby and herein make and publish this our last will and testament, revoking hereby all previous wills, testaments, and codicils of any nature whatsoever, executed at any time prior hereto.

To our beloved Alma Mater we pledge:
 "Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear,
 And the rocks melt wi' the sun,
 We will love thee still my dear,
 While the sands of life shall run."

TO THE FACULTY:

Mr. Vanderslice:

A million dollars a year, so he may establish and run a college and admit every senior class.

Mrs. Thomas:

A Ph. D. degree without further study.

Mrs. Bell:

A pass on the bus line so Mr. McCord will not have to be imposed upon by taking her home.

Mr. Hagan:

Three more English classes a day. We fear he has not enough work.

Miss Rouse:

A book of examination questions. We don't think hers are hard enough.

To the rest of the Faculty:

Studious classes for the rest of their lives.

To the Junior Class we do also give and bequeath in good faith and with the hope that it will be received in the same manner as well, our kind feeling toward the lower classes, our scholastic ability, our good standing with the faculty, our section teacher, "Ma" Bell, and our section room.

And we as the individuals hereafter named do give and bequeath to each member of the Junior Class that which we have set forth below as follows:

I, Dennis Ladd to Arnold Carter, my height and slender figure.

I, Charles Sterling to David Young, my kind feeling toward Hoover.

I, George McQuinn to Dorothy Leighty, my ability to make a speech.

I, Glenn Hall to Ellsworth Simpson, my pool championship title.

I, Lucy Munson to Sallie Corley, my popularity.

I, Gladys Wilson to Katherine Lawrence, my "charm."

I, Joe Clark to John Quick, my Chevrolet roadster.

I, William Moore to Miss Wilkinson, my chewing gum.

- I, Jeanne Rose to Rose Withauer, my love for movie stars.
- I, Krug McClosky to Byron Ross, my military achievements.
- I, Charles McPherson to Edward Davidson, my way of blushing.
- I, Edwin Hay to Katherine Graves, my quiet characteristics.
- I, Jerry Schutz to Roland Manning, my well known strut and style of hair comb.
- I, Julian Nelson to Edward Chewing, my care of the "Noah's Ark."
- I, Elois Topley to Josephine Smith, my basketball honors and abilities.
- I, Anne Croson to Everett Connor, my "Mary Garden" accomplishments.
- I, Douglas Schepmoes to William Furr, my "Beau Brummel" appearance.
- I, Virginia Harrison to Alton Wise, my curls.
- I, Lucille Goode to Walter Horn, my quiet, ladylike ways.
- I, Teresa Tillett to Esther Murray, my art of dress making.
- I, Morgan Nyce to Robert Marks, my ability to arrive at school on time.
- I, Madison Monroe to Tanner Kinnier, my gift of "Gab."
- I, Angelina Federico to Randolph Follin, my slowness of speech.
- I, Mary Smoot to Ann Petty, my Campbell's Electric Exerciser.
- I, Clementine Pinckney to Margaret May, my spirit of meekness.
- I, Virginia Pettitt to May Jenkins, my "socks."
- I, Charles Mateer to Edwin Summers, my pleasingly plump appearance.
- I, Bessie Iskow to Dorothy Potterton, my ability to secure ads for the "Blue and Gray."
- I, Jimmie Scott to Roger Beebe, my sheikish power.
- I, Lewis Shepherd to Frances Bell, my "sickly" excuses for being absent.
- I, Mae Sizemore to Lorraine Branson, my spinsterhood.
- I, Margaret Griffin to Paul Fisher, my success in "Heart Affairs."
- I, Evangeline Rudasill to Novice McNeely, my daily luncheon walk around the school.
- I, Dorothy Iskow to Walter Spauls, my typing speed.
- I, William Swart to Wingert Harrison, my place as best looking officer in "A" company.
- I, Harold Harbaugh to Crosby Germain, the few remaining "A's" the school has to give.
- I, Marian Goodrick to Roue Hogan, my red hair.
- I, Margaret Bensinger to Lorraine Gonyea, my dramatic abilities.
- I, Virginia Hogan to "The Juniors," the class penny box.
- I, Doris Preston to Yolande Gantt, my love for athletes.

I, Elsie Brooks to Dorothy Via, my English abilities.

I, Edith Rice to Edward Chewning, my chemistry experiments.

I, Anita Mills to Evelyn Mitchell, my affections for a certain "Hall."

I, Doris Beck to Eleanore King, my Girl Scout honors.

I, Ruth Bird to Aurelia Brown, my position as music chairman of the Senior Class.

I, Marcelle Dauphin to Joe Ellis, my quiet, demure ways.

I, Katherine Parker to Elizabeth Tillson, my lipstick.

I, Robert Baxter to Agnes Powell, my protractor and compass with hopes that she will make good use of them.

I, Gordon Crouch to George Tabor, my best girl.

I, Forrest Lee Lucas to Ruth Keiter, all my knowledge of mathematics.

I, Mary Withauer to Nadine O'Bannon, my ability to write love letters, willed to me last year by Josephine Sterling.

I, Anna Schull to Nancy DeLashmutt, my typing ability.

I, Louise Taylor to Paul Roberson, my ability to write "Business" letters.

I, Delmas Barr to Conway Richardson, my newspaper route.

I, Troxell Simonton to Alma Bean, my poetic powers.

I, Richard Tacker to Frances Bierly, my fluency in Spanish.

I, Leola Ellis to Catherine Rudasill, my cooperation with the Ballston Pharmacy in the production of the Senior snapshots.

In witnesses whereof we hereunto set our hand and seal this nineteenth day of February in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-nine.

THE PROPHECY

Behold, I come from Allah to unfold
The mysteries the future holds for thee.

And one by one my mind will shape thy mold.

Come, Class of '29, and bear with me.

The spirit is unloosened, it is free;
My mind is wandering, roaming, 'way far off,

And gazing through the next decade
I see

Joe Clark—he is a well-known Spanish prof.

I see Bob Tillett as a scientist,

The first to send a radio to Mars.

I.o. Doris Preston, Taylor Jenkins, both

Have risen to success as Broadway stars.

And Krug McClosky's in the army
now,

An officer, I think—oh, this is good.
And Madison Monroe's been found at last—

He's making talkies down in Hollywood.

A notion shop holds sway before my eyes.

It's Angelina Federico's store.

From out the shop another classmate steps;

Her name's Leola Ellis—I mean
Moore.

Both Dorothy and Bessie Iskow have
As writers won themselves worldwide renown,

While Margaret Bensinger now conducts

The hottest little orchestra in town.

Now Marian Goodrick is a movie queen,

The girl with "it" and hair of flaming red,

And Charlie Sterling vividly is seen
As Al Smith's presidential campaign head.

May Sizemore wins a silver necking cup,

—The world's most rapid typist—
gosh, she's good,

And Anne Croson, singing opera roles,

Breaks Mary Garden's mark for altitude.

There! Marcelle Dauphin comes before me now—

The French ambassador's chief secretary.

And Jerry Schutz stands clear within my mind,

He's made a fortune on his dictionary.

Virginia Hogan enters in my dream;

She is our state's first woman senator.

A charming housewife Gladys Wilson seems

As carefully she mops the kitchen floor.

I next perceive the face of Doris Beck,

Teresa Tillett, Louise Taylor, all

Are partners in a local beauty shop

Their motto: "Save the surface and save all."

Our old friend, Charles McPherson is, it seems,

The treasurer of Clarendon Loan and Trust.

There Julian Nelson steals upon the scene;

He owns and operates the high school bus.

Lo, Harold Harbaugh is a minister,
He followed in the steps of dear old dad.

While Elsie Brooks a doctor has become—

The best M. D. the county ever had.

And Forrest Lee has turned evangelist

To try and check the waywardness of fools.

And Bill Moore heads the soda-jerk-ing course

Of International Correspondence Schools.

Our Gordon Crouch is now Olympic champ—

A thrower of the javelin and weights, While Douglas Schepmoes, the planter, just has crossed
A garden with a peach and got a date.

Virginia Pettit dedicates her life
With Mary Withauer to our noble nation.

They hope to find some Self-Aid book to help
The English of the coming generation.

Our Lucille Goode portrays the headgear vogue,
While Anna Schull has made her
dough in silk,
And Clementine Pinckney—tiny little rogue,
Is advertising Simpson's healthful milk.

There's Margaret Griffin, noted woman sleuth.
The man whom Margaret wants she always gets.
And Robert Baxter, big-time financier Spends life indorsing checks—and cigarettes.

And Glenn Hall lectures on tobacco evils,
The wickedness of cigarettes and pipes,
While Lucy Munson's married to a teacher;
Now Lucy would do that, she's just that type.

Here 'Lois Topley has become quite famous,
The queen of all her sex's basketeers,
And Dennis Ladd is working in a circus—
The world's most lengthy man he now appears.

And Lewis Shepherd shatters expectations
Appearing as a burly night-club
bouncer.
Here's Edwin Hay in full-dress suit before me—
I see him as a radio announcer.

Next William Swart in running togs
approaches,

A distance man—the wizard of the track;

And George McQuinn, our quiet baseball hero,

Monopolizes Washington's first sack.

Virginia Harrison is fashion maker, She's showing Paris' women what to wear.

While Charles Mateer, the great sax syncopator

Is answering Paul Whiteman's fondest prayer.

And Clarendon's best butcher—lucky bum????

Has Katherine Parker as his willing frau.

So great a pianist Ruth Bird's become,

That Paderewski's in the poorhouse
now.

And Delmas Barr now owns a big newspaper

With Jeanne Rose as his foremost editor.

I see James Scott—he's Zeigfeld's leading dancer,

And is he good? Say, boy, page Terpsichore!

Mary Smoot, Anita Mills, together
Conduct the "hot dog" trade of W-L.

While Richard Tacker earns the vibrant title

Of county "sheik"—as ice-men sometimes will.

The preacher gives Evangeline Rudasill

Her "Bachelor of Kitchenette" degree,

While Troxel Simonton's achieved his goal

Behind the footlights—moving scenery.

The papers say: "Another record broken

By famous aviatrix, Edith Rice."

And on the ads of Arrow Collar makers

I see the beaming face of Morgan
Nyce.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

ACADEMIC

Paul Heins	President
Allen Goodwin	Vice-President
Lorraine Branson	Secretary-Treasurer

Hello, everybody! This is the class of '30 speaking, Station W-L-11-S.

We, the Junior Class of Washington-Lee High School first came into existence in 1924. Our teachers were Misses Powell, Martin, Honaker, Mrs. Moss, and Messrs. Blake and Gardner. Ours was the first seventh grade of the present high school, and we met and studied every afternoon at the Ballston and Cherrydale schools. This division was due to the fact that the Ballston school was not large enough to hold both sections of the seventh grade and the senior high school, and the high school building was not yet completed.

Throughout the years our class has been connected with every branch of school life, being prominent in athletics, clubs, and scholarship. Among the athletes we find Young, H. Gonyea, L. Gonyea, Germaine, Chewning, Goodwin, Manning, Roberson, Harrison, Hogan, DeLashmutt, Leighty, Fraber, E. Tillson, O. Tillson, and Kines. The Junior Class has likewise contributed a number of names to the honor roll for scholarship, indeed, too many to name here.

The Commercial Section of the Junior Class has as its home room teacher Miss Sadie Williams, while the Academic Section has Mrs. Marie Malott. In each of the foregoing groups there are approximately forty-five students.

Hard work has made us Juniors, and as our aim has always been "Our Best," we are sure that in our next and last year we will have said and done all that old W-L expects of us but the last word: "Farewell—'30."

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

We are the Sophomores, that class ha'f way between the proud and haughty Seniors and the extremely humble Freshmen.

The Sophomores are divided into four home-rooms under the direction of Miss Loving, Miss Fox, Mr. McCord, and Mr. Richmond.

The literary club is composed mostly of Sophomores, and a number belong to the dramatic club, while a high percentage of the boys have joined the cadets corps. And don't think the Sophomores lack athletes. Indeed, we have quite a few letter men. Our scholastic standing, also, is high. On the whole, the class has made a very fair record in all the activities of the school.

This class has been gathered from the four corners not only of Virginia and of the United States, but actually of the earth when you consider the four from the Philippines.

In 1931 this class will have the distinction of being the first in all of Virginia to be graduated after completing the full six-year course in an accredited Junior-Senior High School.

The Seniors (and others) may not consider us of much importance now, but JUST WAIT!

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

The history of our Freshman Class of Washington-Lee High School is somewhat like the tail of a jack rabbit. There isn't much to it. However, we have an advantage over the Freshman Classes of some other schools in that quite a few of us had already been together for a couple of years. We entered the seventh grade from grammar schools scattered all over Arlington County. As we moved up, many others joined us in our quest for knowledge.

There are so many of us, it would be impossible for one or two teachers to try to band us together. Therefore the following teachers have the honor of being our home room teachers: Miss Rowlett, Miss Artz, Mr. Hagan, Mr. Sowers, and Mr. Rowland.

We are proud to say we have taken part in every activity of our school, whenever possible. Why, the Cadets couldn't get along without us, and the Dramatic Club would be lost! Several of the Freshmen played on the second basketball team, and a very fine football player came from our midst. We have not yet been able to show our real ability, but a few years from now our Senior heroes will look back and remember that they received their start in the Freshman Class of '29.

We may be only Freshmen, but remember, Seniors, you, yourselves, were once Freshmen. We are PROUD to be Freshmen of Washington-Lee, and we look forward eagerly to the time when we shall be Seniors, and can look down scornfully on the "Freshies" and make them feel miserable. But, since we are still Freshmen, we want to impress upon you the fact that Freshmen are necessary.

Book III CLUBS

W - L CLUB

The first annual ecclesia of the W-L Club was held at the close of the football season for the purpose of electing the officers for the year. The officers chosen were as follows:

Charles McPherson	President
Allen Goodwin	Vice-President
Walter Spauls	Secretary-Treasurer
Mr. J. F. Wilson	Sponsor

The aim of the club continued the betterment of athletics at Washington-Lee and the promotion of affairs connected with athletics.

The club is now planning its annual banquet, at which time the new members of the club will be presented with their hard-earned monograms.

The club is happy to note that it will lose but three of its members during the coming year by graduation. The members being lost for this reason are George McQuinn, Glenn Hall, and Charles McPherson. We, the student body, may not see what they do elsewhere, but we will never forget what they did here.

GIRLS' W - L CLUB

A small but very select body is the Girls' W-L Club of the school. There are only seven members, but their works are very great. And, now, they plan to do something else for the school, besides giving it fame by their basketball prowess. They are working to buy for it a first-aid kit, which is badly needed.

Elois Topley is president, and Nancy DeLashmutt, secretary. To them the club owes much. Miss Trevette is our faculty adviser.

The members of the club are:

ELOIS TOPLEY ("Top")—Elois is the only four letter girl in school. She has been the cause of many a victory for W-L. For two years she was Captain, and this year she is Manager. The team and school will miss her.

NANCY DELASHMUTT—Nancy, the secretary of the Club, became famous last year as star of the game between Manassas and W-L.

EVELYN KINES ("Shorty")—Evelyn has gained fame as one of the best guards the team has ever had.

ESTHER MURRAY—Esther, another famous guard and a member of the famous Kines-Murray team, has caused many an opponent to have heart-failure.

ANNE CROSON ("Nibs")—Anne became famous last year in a dual role. As center and guard she has done much for the team.

LUCIA FRABER ("Lou")—Lucia, the big tall Center, is the world's best sport. With "banged-up" knees, Lucia has fought and won many battles.

LUCY MUNSON—Lucy is one of the forwards and has helped the team in times of trouble to roll up the score.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

DIRECTORS

Mr. Hagan and Mr. Thompson

OFFICERS

Troxell Simonton	President
Virginia Hogan	Vice-President
Charles McPherson	Secretary-Treasurer

The Dramatic Club has been one of the most progressive clubs in the school this year. It is undoubtedly the largest, having a membership of about sixty-five. All the members have cooperated splendidly with one another, and, as a result, have produced several excellent and profitable plays.

The first plays given this season were "The Valiant" and "Grandma Pulls the Strings," the former a one-act tragedy and the latter a one-act comedy. The leading man in "The Valiant" was Troxel Simonton, who did an impressive piece of acting. Other members of the cast were Taylor Jenkins, Doris Preston, Lorraine Gonyea, and Robert Yardley. The comedy that ran in conjunction with this play was very well executed and is listed among the best. The actors were Everett Wilkins, Frances Bierly, Jane Ricker, Margaret Bensinger, Marian Goodrick, Flora Heins, and Margaret Huffman.

Later in the year "Kempy," a three-act play, was put on. Edwin Hay played the main character, and was supported by Everett Wilkins, Glenn Hall, Gordon Crouch, Glenn Rollins, Dorothy Potterton, and Doris Beck.

It is due chiefly to the zeal and efforts of our directors, Mr. Hagan and Mr. Thompson, that the club has done so well and our plays have been such successes. For their labor much praise is due them.

ORATORICAL CLUB

Walter Spauls	President
Charles Sterling	Vice-President
Virginia Harrison	Secretary
Mrs. Marie Malott	Coach

Washington-Lee first participated in the National Oratorical Contest in 1926. Under the direction of Mr. Hagan it made a very auspicious start. The first school champion was Leno.a Thomas. Elizabeth Mason and Eleanor Beck tied for second place.

In 1927, the Oratorical Club was officially organized under the supervision of Mrs. Malott. Having made a good beginning the first year, everyone worked to go farther in the contest. John Bell was the school winner and proved to be such a splendid orator that he succeeded in carrying the honor of W-L through Arlington County and Virginia State finals to the Star area finals.

With the coming of the 1928 contest everyone was fired with enthusiasm, and with the determination to advance farther in the contest. Josephine Sterling was declared the winner. She, also, carried the colors of W-L through to the Star area finals, once more putting Washington-Lee High School before the public.

This year the Oratorical Contest brought forward six able speakers, namely: Virginia Baker, Harold Harbaugh, Virginia Harrison, Joseph Schutz, Walter Spauls, and Charles Sterling. Of these six, Jerry Schutz, who spoke on "The Constitution, a Guarantee of the Liberty of the Individual," was declared winner and Walter Spauls, speaking on "The Citizen, his Duties and Privileges under the Constitution," was awarded second place. We are confident that Jerry will go farther; but, whether he wins or loses, we know he will represent the school with true Washington-Lee spirit.

Miss Edna Bonney, Faculty Adviser

Louise Friess	President
Ellis Cullen	Vice-President
Hortense Davis	Secretary
Elizabeth Martin	Treasurer

THE LITERARY CLUB

The Literary Club, organized in the fall of 1926, has a membership of about fifteen girls, the majority of whom are charter members.

The aim of the club is to guide its members in such study and practice as shall develop the power, both of appreciation and of expression.

A knowledge of words and phrases of language can be acquired only by reading the best authors, masters of the language, carefully studying their words and as carefully comparing their uses with those of other authorities.

We are enjoying the discussion of such books as "Tale of Two Cities," "The Scarlet Letters," and "David Copperfield," also the study of historical characters such as "Nero," "Joan of Arc," "Caesar," and "Helen of Troy." Those magazines which give a discussion of current events and political, scientific, and practical topics, also claim our attention. One can readily see that the advantages derived from such a course of study would be too numerous to mention.

Our share in the development of our own school library has been a source of pleasure to us and we recall with pride our contribution of a ten dollar gold-piece last year, hoping to make a similar one at the end of this term.

To those, who are interested in literary work we extend a cordial invitation to join us.

THE SPANISH CLUB

We, the students of the several Spanish groups under the able instruction of Mrs. Bell, our sponsor, have formed in this year, 1929, for the first time in the history of Washington-Lee High School, into a club. The club has for its object, engaging in various enterprises and activities which will add the zest of native Spanish atmosphere to the already attractive course in "La lengua castellana." Tenenos por ejemplo, la vista de vistar, en el mes de mayo, el restaurant Madrillon en el gran ciudad de Washington. We might add that many of us look forward to this excursion with a watering of the tongue and an apprehension of red pepper. We have, also, the prospect of spending an afternoon at the catacombs. It is hoped that these excursions will result in useful instruction, happy experience, and an enlivened interest on the part of the school in the Spanish course. We feel sure that, with the impetus we give it, and the mutual bond of affection inherent in it, the Spanish Club will be an established and growing institution in the future years of W-L.

Yo he dicho.

Gracias.

With three banquets to our credit, here we are—the Domestic Science Club of Washington-Lee High School. This club was organized in 1928 with the aim of benefiting Washington-Lee's cooking, and we feel that we have accomplished our aim. With the aid of our capable Domestic Science teacher, Miss Loving, we have done much. One reason we are essential is that without us the Chamber of Commerce does not function when it comes to banquets. Furthermore, the teachers would be sad without us, since we serve them their coffee at noon. So you see our importance.

When June comes and the club disbands, we will leave it with regret and will long for next October, when it meets again; for we have had much pleasure in our work, and have learned many things in the way of social etiquette.

The Seniors, who are leaving for good, bid a sad good-bye, and make the sincere wish that there will always be a bigger and better Home Economics Club here at W-L, as each year comes and goes its way.

JUNIOR GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

Our Glee Club has been working under difficulties. We were unable to find a time when the seniors could join us, as they are all such popular girls and have so many other calls on their time. When we finally organized we called ourselves the Junior Glee Club, although we have a few members from the Senior High School. We chose Eleanore King as president, Alice Crawford as Secretary-Treasurer, and Ruth Bird pianist.

So far, our meetings have been for our own pleasure. We meet every Wednesday during the home room period. Although we have not yet discovered any Ponselles or Galli Curcis, we think that our voices do very well for our ages. We may never sing leads in the Metropolitan Opera Company, but we can help make up the chorus, and that, after all, is necessary.

CADETS

The cadet corps of Washington-Lee was organized in January, 1927. Under the guidance of Lieutenant Hudson of Fort Myer and Mr. Ludwig, its first Professor of Military Science and Tactics, it accomplished as much as possible under adverse conditions, some of which were the late arrivals of uniforms and rifles.

Through the efforts of Edwin Sherwood, its first Captain, the first annual banquet, a pleasant forerunner of those to follow, was held.

The second year dawned, and many new members reported for drill. Under the skillful handling of Captain C. E. Jackson, the new P. M. S. and T., two uniformed companies and one non-uniformed company were organized.

That year the officers of the corps formed a club for its betterment. The members of the club were as follows: Major James Scott, Captains Walter Horn, Krug McClosky, John Bell, Lieutenants Franklin Mann, Walter Torrence, Joseph Clark, Irving Kisseleff, Wingert Harrison, Robert Baxter, Meredith Smith, and Madison Monroe. Much was accomplished along the lines of creating an enthusiasm for the work among the cadets and perfecting the cadet organization.

The same session George Mason High School organized a cadet corps. They with Washington-Lee constitute the Arlington County Cadet Corps.

Participating in the George Washington celebration at Alexandria, February 22, 1928, the Arlington County Corps made a splendid showing.

With the thrill of Alexandria still in their veins the companies traveled to Winchester to take part in the Apple Blossom Carnival. Arriving full of enthusiasm they again, by excellence of form and drill, brought credit to their organization and to their county.

On May 30, 1928, for the first time in the history of the corps, a competitive drill was staged between the companies of Washington-Lee and those of George Mason. Under the handling of Captain McClosky, B company of Washington-Lee won first honors for the uniformed companies. Company E of George Mason won the non-uniformed companies.

Through the efforts of Cadet Major Scott, the second annual banquet was held in the cafeteria of the school. This banquet closed a very successful year of the corps.

The third year arrived, bringing many new cadets to fill the ranks. Although no new companies were formed, the old companies were made larger.

This year the organization has been admitted to the Reserve Officer Training Corps of the United States Government. Major McNeil came direct from the War Department as Professor of Military Science and Tactics, thereby removing the last obstacle to the Corps' being a member of the R. O. T. C.

The band and the staff took part in the Inaugural parade on March 4, 1929, making a good showing, notwithstanding the fact that they marched through a downpour of rain.

Here's to the success of the cadet corps of Washington-Lee! May it make a great name for itself and the school.

CADET BAND

The first Cadet Band in the history of our school was organized this session. Thus have the dreams of our principal, Mr. Vanderslice, and of others connected with the Cadet Corps been realized. Although the Corps has been in existence for three years, we have had no band. Hence, the organizing of one filled us with rejoicing. The boys have done splendid work thus far. Starting with a nucleus of just a few boys, the band has grown until now it has a membership of eighteen. Much of the success has been due to our able bandmaster, Bruce Kilgore, and the adviser, Mr. Yassel, Commander of the Third Cavalry band at Fort Myer, Virginia. At present the organization consists of only drums and bugles, but plans are under way to increase it to regulation size as soon of the necessary funds are at hand to purchase much needed equipment and instruments. The members have been diligent in their work and have made much progress. They made their first public appearance at the vaudeville show last winter. On the past fourth of March they marched in the Inaugural Parade. We are proud of our band; and we hope that in the future, building upon its firm foundation, it will grow into a bigger, better band for Washington-Lee.

ATHLETICS

The football team this past season was a puzzle to the coach, the student body, and the outside followers of W-L. Coach Wilson was faced with the task of filling eight regular positions on the team vacated the preceding year by graduation. As a result, a comparatively green team was placed upon the field.

In the season that followed Washington-Lee was nosed out by the barest of margins in the ensuing contests. The players were inclined to be slow in starting, but when they did, they presented a menace to the aspirations of any football team, as Alexandria can testify. It can be said, however, that in view of the inexperience of the team a very creditable exhibition of football sense, grit, and spirit was shown.

One of the outstanding accomplishments was the uncovering of one of the best punters seen in Northern Virginia. "Coopy" would often get kick-offs for 50 and 60 yards. The end run sprints of Mortimer were exciting and beautiful to see and great things are expected of Stan for next year.

With the end of the season we were sorry to see the passing of our own little Scotchman, quarterback, and field-general, Charlie McPherson. Mac has the honor of having played every minute of every game for four years.

Likewise, another star of the past four years, Glenn Hall, was lost to our team. These men will be greatly missed. We will long remember these pioneer athletes of W-L.

The basketball team suffered a season long jinx. They played good basketball, but they were destined to lose. If it were not sickness or ineligibility, then the bad breaks heaped upon them. An example of the bad breaks suffered can be shown in the George Mason game. George Mason won 19-18. However, the scorekeeper failed to record one of the baskets made by one of our men. They were in numerous games nosed out by the barest of margins. The Blue and Gray, however, never ceased fighting. They fought with all the fire and dash they possessed and always presented a combination to be feared. When they lost, they went down fighting. One of the bright spots of this campaign was the development of new players who are expected to win for W-L next year. Notwithstanding the results, Washington-Lee had a team full of fight and spirit that would not say "defeat" until the last whistle blew.

The baseball team of the season of 1928 was truly a powerful combination of ball players. Fighting on the defense, combined with those fighting qualities characteristic of Washington-Lee, they constituted one of the best nines in Northern Virginia.

Riding rough-shod over local opposition, they fought their way to the semi-finals of the state. A game was scheduled with Clifton Forge, but due to a questionable misunderstanding our boys were unable to play. A game was then arranged with Scottsville. This was won by Washington-Lee by the score 2-0. Germain pitched a masterly game allowing his opponents but two hits. The outstanding work of McQuinn, Goodwin, and Germain, combined with the general spirit of the team, put on the field, the most formidable baseball team Washington-Lee has had to defend her honor.

In view of its splendid showing the team should be given much honor. It is regretted that there could be no picture of the team. The boys had outgrown their old suits, and the new uniforms did not arrive in time for the boys to be photographed. Nevertheless, the boys will be remembered all the more by what a team of sports they were.

As leaders, the team had Captain McQuinn and Coach Johnson. The members included Chase, Chewning, Clements, Connor, Eaton, Germain, Goodwin, Hall, Heins, Manning, Marcey, McQuinn, McPherson, Monroe, Roberson, Rosenberger.

Washington-Lee's first track team made a creditable showing in 1928. The team entered two senior track meets—one, a triangular meet with George Mason, Alexandria, and Washington-Lee held in Alexandria; the second, an Arlington County championship meet between George Mason and Washington-Lee, held on W-L's field. Among the stars were Stanley Mortimer, the season's high scorer with fifteen and a half points, Ralph Crouch with nine points, and Howard Crouch with nine points. Roland Manning was captain. Those receiving monograms were Mortimer, R. Crouch, H. Crouch, Hagan, Manning, and Fisher. Mortimer gained honors for high-jump and pole vault, R. Crouch for discus and javelin, H. Crouch for 220 yd. and broad-jump, and Hagan and Fisher for 880 yd. and 440 yd. Others who won honors, but did not receive monograms were G. Crouch, Swart, Tabor, and D. Young. Paul Fisher was captain for the current season. Though the team was not victorious in either meet, it showed that in future meets it will have to be reckoned with.

In summarizing athletics as a whole we would like to make the following statements: Despite the poor showing of our football team it still deserves praise. A school cannot have a winning team all of the time. This was a bad year for us, but the boys showed that fighting spirit that belongs only to W-L. Likewise, the basketball team suffered many handicaps; yet it was a credit to the school. Our baseball team was a great success; it retained the district championship in major league style.

In conclusion, we pause to pay tribute to those renowned athletes who will be lost to our school due to graduation. Hall, McQuinn, and McPherson have made a name for themselves at W-L. These boys have served their school since its founding. Monroe, Hay, Swart, and G. Crouch also deserve honorable mention. In years to come these boys will be remembered for their "full measure of devotion" to Washington-Lee.

The girls basketball team of '29 set a record for themselves that previously has not been made. Through the hard work and patience of our coach the team developed into such a strong, elusive foe that it experienced defeat only once in the seven games, and that to our deadly rival—Alexandria.

Each game held thrills for every onlooker and revealed the gait and ability of the team. It can't be said that any one game had its particular star, because each girl that went on the floor proved herself worthy of the title.

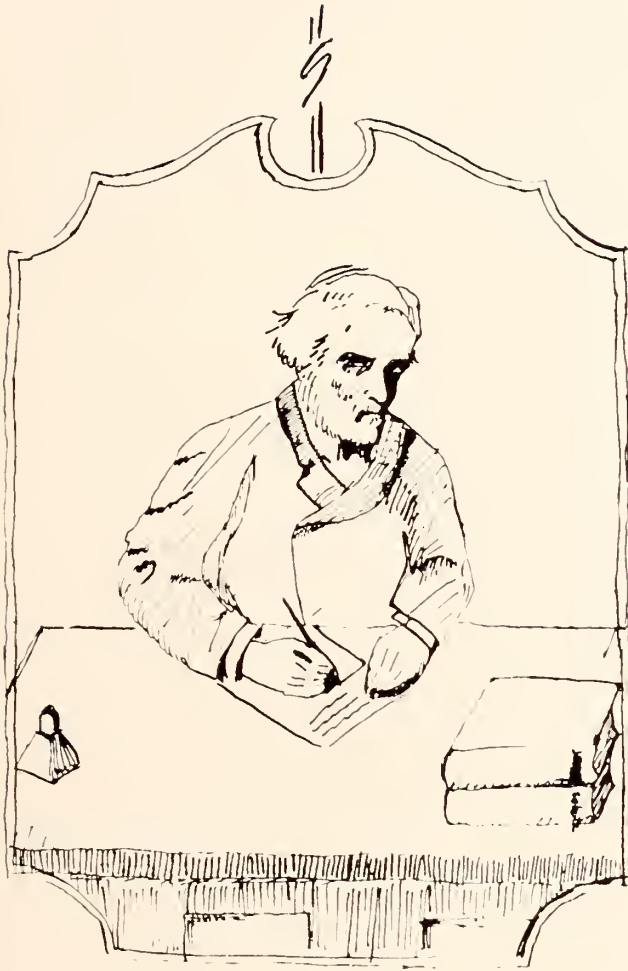

Under Miss Trevette's coaching the team developed some fast passwork. This hunch of "getting the ball where you want it in the twinkling of an eye" was most outstanding in the first George Mason game; for in this game one could hardly keep up with the ball, it was passed from one side of the court to the other so quickly and expertly.

But both Alexandria games should be remembered as the biggest thrillers of all. The first one, played in Alexandria, was a hard fought game in which the team taught her opponents that victory was not easily won from Washington-Lee. In the return game, played on W-L court, the Red and White team was unable to show herself superior to the Blue and Gray, for W-L carried off the laurels with nine points in advance of the Alexandria score.

Graduation this year, though not taking in quantity will take its toll in quality—"Top," side-center for the past four years; Lucy, experienced and expert forward; Anne, the jack-of-all-positions, and substitute guard and jump-center; and Virginia, another substitute guard, are passing from our midst. These are all a heavy loss and will be missed by all the squad.

Here's to the Team of '30 as much success as that of '29.

Social Calendar of the Class of '29

The first important event of this year, in which the class of '29 took part, was the special assembly when we presented to the school library a beautiful magazine rack made of light walnut with a silver dedication plate. The senior class, through individual donations, purchased the material for the rack which Joseph Clark made and presented. Officers of the class presided, each giving a short address.

On Wednesday, February 22, the class of '29 held an assembly in honor of George Washington and Robert E. Lee, after whom our school is named. Virginia Harrison delivered a speech on the life of Lee; Glenn Hall and Charles Sterling spoke of George Washington, the soldier and man.

On Friday, March 8, the class, accompanied by the senior class of the George Mason High School and as guests of the Washington-Virginia Railway, made a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon, the homestead of that illustrious leader, George Washington. On the way a guide indicated points of historical interest. Arriving at the shrine of Washington, a representative from each class placed before the tomb a wreath from the Arlington County Schools.

After thus honoring the memory of Washington, the class viewed the estate. Although the visit was brief, the memory of the pleasant afternoon will be treasured.

One of the out-standing events of the year was the banquet on May 29, given by the Junior Class in honor of the Seniors. Among the guests were members of the alumni and faculty. Toasts were offered by the groups present. Several musical selections and songs added to the entertainment.

As commencement drew nigh, the senior class held its farewell prom. While dancing and mirth seemed to predominate, the seniors, knowing this would be their last social event together at W-L, felt pangs of sorrow.

AMONG MY SOUVENIRS

I cherish mem'ries dear,
Of that old senior year,
Remember with a tear
That class of '29.
Their thought is dear to me
With them I'd love to be,
But I will never see
That dear old gang of mine,
Those happy hours we spent
Were each one heaven sent
And youth's gay bliss was lent
To make each moment cheerful
But now those days are done
And ere life's course is run
Each faithful senior son
Will long for '29.

—Troxel Simonton '29.

"Song of the Vagabonds"

Sons of high desire,
Lift your voices higher,
Senior Class of '29!
We will all be famous
And the world will name us,
Proudly will our banner shine!
Onward! Forward! Ever we must go!
Upward! Upward! The way we surely know!
Come, join in the chorus,
Every one is for us,
Senior class of '29!

—Jeanne Rose '29.

Anvil Chorus

Here, here in the harbor
Our ship now is resting,
E'er to the ocean
We make our way,
Slow rolls the tide
Which the captain is testing,
But out at sea
Are the storm clouds gray.
Soon we'll leave the shore and go out to the ocean,
Where our crew will work and toil with all devotion—
Watch us, class of '29!
Our ship will sail through to fame, and honor,
The class of '29!

—Jeanne Rose '29.

Seniors on Parade

Two by two
We go marching through,
The Seniors on parade.
We heave a sigh
As we say good-bye,
The Seniors on their way.
We hate to leave our dear old pals behind us,
But if you come our way you're sure to find us,
Oh! how we'll pine
For old '29,
And the Seniors on parade.
Annie Croson '29, Margaret Bensinger '29,
Lois Topley '29, Marion Goodrick '29.

ODE TO THE COLUMBIA PIKE BUS

Rattle, rattle, little bus,
 How far are you taking us?
 Can you climb up Court House hill?
 If you don't, we surely will.

When on Wilson Boulevard,
 Do you find the going hard?
 As, with many bumps and jolts,
 You lose all your nuts and bolts?

And then on Clements Avenue,
 Does your mixture bother you?
 As you reach the High School gate,
 Don't you blush to know you're late?

When at last our day is done,
 And it's time again to run,
 Is it because you have no heart—
 You spit and cough and fail to start?

What is it that your spirit lacks
 That makes you stall on trolley tracks?
 Don't you know we're homeward bound
 And hate to have to hang around?

Must you always spoil the trip
 As on the hills your gears you strip?
 Have you no shame that parents dear
 Worry when we don't appear?

Never think you're home until
 You have chugged up Palmer's hill.
 When you stutter round the bend,
 Are you glad you've reached the end?

We love your spark plugs, old and grey,
 Your tires with rubber worn away.
 We love each wheezy, bounceless spring,
 Each gasket, wire, and piston ring.

We hail your horn that does not blow;
 We cheer your lights that never glow.
 Oh, may you long remain with us—
 Rattle, rattle, little bus.

—Betsy Cannon '31.

NICKNAMES

Our class is known in every way
In play, in work, in sports, but—say!
It's our nicknames we're known for best—
How many of these have you guessed?

If "Pug" and "Wucy" have a spat,
Can you tell who are meant by that?
If Mrs. Bell calls "Here, Chick, Chick!"
If you don't know him, you are thick!

If "Bill" and "Jordie" walk about,
Can you guess why the girls look out?
And every time that you see "Sandy"
Could you tell why the boys are handy?

Do you know "Birdie," whose sweet smile
Will charm all men, and care beguile?
And have you met our "Socks" just yet?
There's no one cleverer than she, I'll bet!

And so you see upon our roll
Nick-names descriptive or else droll;
But you'll admit, and this I know
We're grand and glorious, aren't we, tho?

—Jeanne Rose '29.

PROGRESS OF THE SENIORS

As noisy children we came,
Shirking and cursing our fate,
Scholars only in name,
Boldness grew softer,
Our interest rose oft'ner
As time in its flight 'gan to wane.

As awak'ning students we grew
Delving and looking within,
More spirit in gray and in blue,
Liking grew loving,
We stopped foolish shoving,
Taking pride in the things that we knew.

As affectionate comrades we stand,
Sad and reluctant to go,
Ever fond of our school, is this band,
Joy, high endeavor,
And pride will we ever
Uphold in this school of our land.

—Jerry Schutz '29.

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

Tune: Sonny Boy

Class of 30's standard, high and lofty standard,
 You set for us, W. L.
 You led us onward, you pointed upward;
 You showed the way, W. L.
 Steadfast of purpose, with high ideals and true,
 Our Alma Mater, we've been while here with you
 And then when we come to leave you
 Class of thirty, true blue,
 May we carry on, W. L.

SENIOR POEM

The good old class of '29
 Will soon be on its way
 Up the path of life, through storm and strife
 To the dawn of a great, new day.

Our object is clean achievement,
 Upon its mountain high;
 We'll upward go, through pain and woe,
 And our limit is the sky.

We'll climb that rough and rocky path;
 Our footsteps ne'er will stray.
 We'll reach success upon its crest
 When we walk that narrow way.

We'll never fail to do our part—
 To aid a friend in need.
 We'll try our best to help the rest—
 To do a golden deed.

So if you need a cheery friend—
 When hopes are sinking fast—
 Throw up your chin—your shoulders—win
 A friendship that will last.

Don't let ambitions downward fall
 Nor troubles fill your mind.
 Just walk the road and share your load
 With the class of '29.

—Troxel Simonton, '29

COMMENCEMENT

Relentlessly the hands of time creep on,
Awaiting no man—brooking no delay.
Yet, moments come when we would have them pause,
Such moments as, perhaps, Commencement Day.

Here end fraternal bonds built by the year,
Here is the saddened parting of the road.
Forced smiles appear behind the misting tears,
Grey skies are there where crystal laughter flowed.

Commencement comes, and halts, and goes away,
The clock ticks on, betrays no faltering sign,
But graven in the sands of time for aye
Is seen a lone, impressive—'29.

HUMOR & ADS

JOKES

Mr. Richmond: What is the color of blue vitriol?

Pupil: Green.

Mr. Richmond: Wrong. What is the composition of water?

Pupil: I don't know.

Mr. Richmond: That's right.

* * * *

Miss Rouse: Give me an example of a collective noun.

Troxel: A vacuum cleaner.

* * * *

Lucy: What a pity it is that handsome men are always conceited.

Everett: Not always, little girl, I am not.

* * * *

Mr. Richmond: What do you know about nitrates?

Pug: They're cheaper than day-rates.

* * * *

Jerry (asking Mr. Vanderslice for the measuring rings): Mr. Vanderslice, where are the dummies for the senior rings?

Bystander: They're in Mrs. Bell's room.

* * * *

Miss Rouse: Where in this poem does the atmosphere change?

Jerry: In the fourth part, where it begins to rain.

* * * *

Two boys were having a heated argument in history class:

Pug: You're the dumbest person I ever saw.

Mr. Wilson: Boys, you forget I'm in the room.

* * * *

Cheer up, Freshmen, the mighty oak was once a nut.

* * * *

She: And what do you think Sir Walter Raleigh said when he placed his cloak at Queen Elizabeth's feet?

He: Step on it, kid—step on it!

* * * *

Mrs. Bell: Who was Cicero?

Herbert: Mutt's boy.

Francis Mayer: Mrs. Bell, what's junket?

Mrs. Bell: Junket?

Francis: Yeah—Some kind of Japanese ship, isn't it?

* * * *

Budding Einstein: "Give three reasons for saying the earth is round," confronted Roue in an examination.

"My teacher says it's round, the book says it's round, and a man told me it was round."

* * * *

Shortsighted Lady (in grocery store): Is that the headcheese over there?

Salesman: No, ma'am; that's one of his assistants.

* * * *

First Stude: When I was sight-seeing in Italy, I met a girl who lived in a very quaint city.

Second Stude: Genoa?

First Stude: No, but it didn't take me long to get acquainted.

* * * *

FLOURISHING INDUSTRIES

Teacher: What is Boston noted for?

Dennis: Boots and shoes.

Teacher: Correct. And Chicago?

Dennis: Shoots and booze.

* * * *

Why does the ghost in "Hamlet" speak Latin?

Because it's a dead language.

* * * *

Mrs. Bell: Margaret, you belong over here by the window.

Margaret: The sun it too hot.

Mrs. Bell: Which son?

* * * *

SUSCEPTIBLE AUDIENCE

Professor: I am going to speak on liars today. How many of you have read the 25th chapter of the text?

Almost every student raised his hand.

Professor: Good! You are the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no 25th chapter.

Dennis: I've been trying to think of a word for two weeks.

Morgan: What about fortnight?

* * * *

Jeanne Rose: Some day you editors will fight for my poems.

Editor: Well, I always was a good loser.

* * * *

TOO MUCH PROTEIN?

Boy Dead After Eating Beans, and His Parents and Brothers.

* * * *

Joe Clark: What is Esperanto?

Pie: Don't you know? It's the universal language.

Joe: Whereabouts is it spoken?

Pie: Nowhere.

* * * *

Krug McClosky: How do you like W-L High School?

Everett: I like it closed.

* * * *

Taylor: I don't like my picture in the annual. It doesn't do me justice.

Krug: Justice! Huh; what you want is mercy!

* * * *

RAII FOR THE MUZZLE

George: Did Mr. Edison make the first talking machine, Pa?

Pa: No, my son. God made the first talking machine, but Edison made the first one that could be shut off.

* * * *

The first test Madison Monroe got 100% on:

1. Between what two countries was the Spanish-American War?
2. When was the war of 1812?
3. In what season did Washington spend his winter at Valley Forge?
4. When was the compromise of 1850 drawn up?
5. How long did the Ten Year's War last?

Mr. McCord: Now, James, name America's greatest general.

James (the son of a broker): General Motors.

THINK OF THE FAMILY PORTRAITS!

Voice from a distant classroom:

"—Monkey, ape, pig, ass, walrus, eel, shark, crawfish, turtle."

1st Stude: What's that? Zoology class?

2nd Stude: Oh, no—that's just the evolution professor going over his family tree.

WE HAVE BOUGHT AN AUTOMOBILE, WE CAN DO WITHOUT THE ELECTRIC CARS
BUT—

CAN YOUR AUTOMOBILE DO ALL THIS?

HOW MUCH OF YOUR EVERYDAY LIFE DEPENDS ON THE ELECTRIC CARS

WHY USE THE ELECTRIC CARS?

There are tried and true.

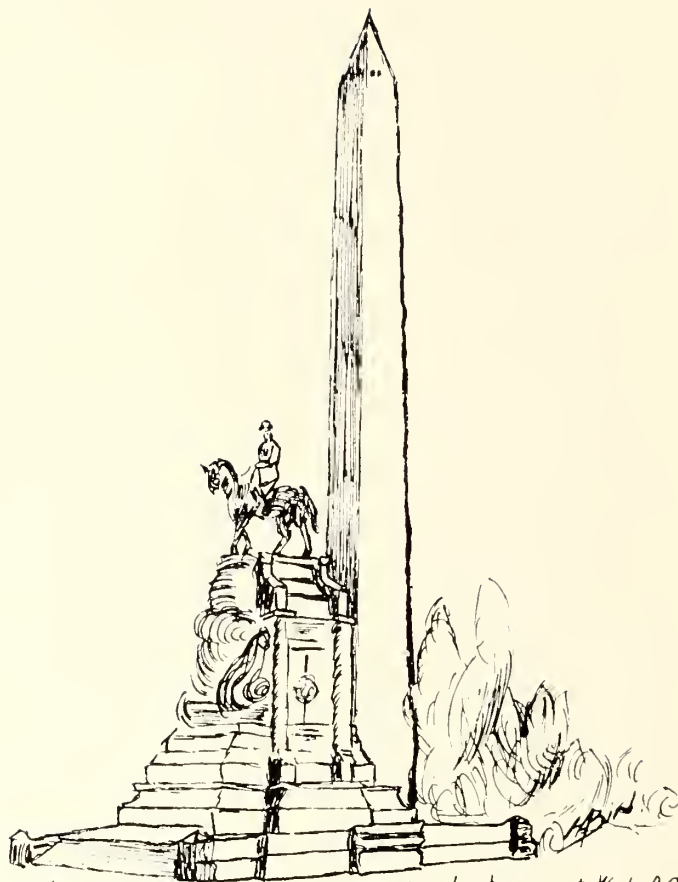

Owned by your neighbor who has the interest of the community at heart.

Every trainman experienced and a gentleman.

Special rates for students. School commutation books are cheaper than any other form of Transportation.
